2. FURTHER ACTION

If a demand for international preliminary examination is made, this opinion will usually be considered to be a written opinion of the International Preliminary Examining Authority ("IPEA"). However, this does not apply where the applicant chooses an Authority other than this one to be the IPEA and the chosen IPEA has notified the International Bureau under Rule 66.1bis(b) that written opinions of this International Searching Authority will not be so considered.

If this opinion is, as provided above, considered to be a written opinion of the IPEA, the applicant is invited to submit to the IPEA a written reply together, where appropriate, with amendments, before the expiration of three months from the date of mailing of Form PCT/ISA/220 or before the expiration of 22 months from the priority date, whichever expires later.

For further options, see Form PCT/ISA/220.

1. With regard to the language, this opinion has been established on the basis of the international application in the language in which it was filed, unless otherwise indicated under this item.
 - This opinion has been established on the basis of a translation from the original language into the following language , which is the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of international search (under Rules 12.3 and 23.1(b)).
2. With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application and necessary to the claimed invention, this opinion has been established on the basis of:
 - a. type of material:
 - a sequence listing
 - table(s) related to the sequence listing
 - b. format of material:
 - in written format
 - in computer readable form
 - c. time of filing/furnishing:
 - contained in the international application as filed.
 - filed together with the international application in computer readable form.
 - furnished subsequently to this Authority for the purposes of search.
3. In addition, in the case that more than one version or copy of a sequence listing and/or table relating thereto has been filed or furnished, the required statements that the information in the subsequent or additional copies is identical to that in the application as filed or does not go beyond the application as filed, as appropriate, were furnished.

Re Item V

Reasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

Reference is made to the following document:

D1: US-B1-6 370 605 (CHONG, JR. FAY) 9 April 2002 (2002-04-09)

The present application does not meet the criteria of Article 33(1) PCT, because the subject-matter of the independent claims 12 and 16 is not new in the sense of Article 33(2) PCT.

Claim 12

The document D1 discloses (the references in parentheses applying to this document): A fibre channel switch element, comprising: a port with an address mapping cache that receives an incoming fibre channel frame in a receive and /or transmit segment, wherein the address mapping cache (see figure 4A) compares a D_ID of an incoming frame in the receive segment and/or a S_ID in the transmit segment; and if a frame header is received the a D_ID or S_ID is compared from a fibre channel header that follows the frame header; and if a compare fabric identifier flag is set, then the fabric identifier is compared (see column 23 line 59-column 24 line 15).

Claim 16

Document D1 discloses

A fibre channel switch element comprising: a port with an address mapping cache that is used for routing frames from one virtual fabric to another by comparing a field in the header to a Virtual fabric identifier in a Header (see column 23 line 59-column 24 line 15).

Dependent claims 13-15 and 17 are also not new because the additional features described in these claims are also already disclosed by D1.
